

I drive a truck and use xm radio's wether and traffic service. they give you continious coverage while the local stations do not. with xm you know where to find it on your dial, this saves me from hunting across the dial and paying attention to my driving. many times i have given out info based on xm traffic reports across the cb to other drivers and suggest other routes. Would you rather have me pulling 40,000 lbs. in rush hour traffic fumbling around with the radio dial or watching the road in front of me?

Thanks, JIm L.
